BHUBANESWAR: Centurion University of Technology and Management here organised its 5th convocation on its campus Monday.

Governor SC Jamir, who is the visitor of the university, presided over the ceremony. Former minister, skill and training, Government of Victoria (Australia), Steven Herbert was the chief guest who delivered the commencement address.

Professor Ruth Wallace, director, Northern Institute, Charles Darwin University (Australia) was the guest of honour on the occasion. Herbert called upon the students to “focus on the outcomes you wish to achieve” and “put in the effort of planning your job, your career now, at the beginning, and your journey will not only be easier, but much more successful.”

Ruth expressed deep interest in collaboration between Charles Darwin University and Centurion and hoped this visit would open channels for exchanging knowledge for mutual benefit. Altogether, 1595 graduates were awarded degrees at the convocation wherein 17 students were given away gold medals for their performances. As many as 25 scholars were awarded Ph.D degrees.
