Culture, Communication and Corporate Happiness Index

Culture is an important factor affecting happiness. Hofstede and Bond (1988) defined culture as “the collective programming of the mind that distinguishes the members of one category of people from those of another and culture can be transferred largely unchanged from generation to generation (Guiso et al. 2006). A number of culture-oriented psychologists have emphasized the critical role of public meanings (folk theories and common sense) and practices (daily routines) that, taken as a whole, define a culture by shaping emotions (Benson 2000; Bruner 1990; Kitayama 2002; Markus and Kitayama 1991; Shweder and Sullivan 1993). In other words, emotions and cognitions are always situated and embedded in specific cultural contexts. Culture may affect happiness in terms of the amount, extent, or degree of happiness.

A webinar on Culture, Communication and Happiness index was organized by the department of English, School of Management, Centurion University of Technology and Management on 2nd May, 2022 in which a total of 70 participants had participated. The program started with an introduction to the resource person by the coordinator of the webinar Dr. Girish Prasad Rath. The speaker Dr. Priyanka Tripathi, Professor, HSS, IIT Patna focused on communication and culture after a brief introduction on happiness. During her presentation, she emphasized on the art of remaining happy and showed the list of happiest countries and the position where India stands. Further she explained how to remain happy at work, at home and in varied environments. Dr. Supriya Pattnaik, Honourable Vice chancellor of CUTM welcomed the speaker and participated actively in the interaction. The webinar ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. Prajna Pani, Professor, department of English.
