

Rangoli competition for Diwali, Paralakhemundi

Date: 6th November, 2018

In the Rangoli Competition held on November 6, 2018, in honour of Diwali, CUTM student Paralakhemundi enthusiastically participated. Celebrating the Festival of Happiness was the competition's theme. India follows the timeless heritage of rangoli, an age-old art form. According to legend, the words "rang" and "aavalli," which denote a range of colours, are the origins of the word "rangoli." Dr. Susant Kumar Pattnaik, dean of student welfare, stated: "By holding such events, students are exposed to our Indian culture. They can simultaneously develop their aesthetic, creative, and innovative skills. Such occasions also foster a sense of harmony and oneness between our nation's various cultures, arts, and customs. In order to welcome Lord Ram on this occasion and to brighten the university surroundings, students also light candles and diyas. The event came to an end with motivational remarks from the dean of student affairs. Both the registrar Prof. Anita Patra and the honourable vice chancellor Prof. Supriya Pattnaik expressed appreciation for the work the student-teachers put into making the celebrations so memorable and exciting.
