About the resource person

Mr. Tofan Nahak is one of the faculty of Centurion University of Technology and Management, Paralakhemundi campus and he is also engaged in ERP section.

About the session

Coursera is honored to be a platform that individuals and institutions around the world trust to learn the skills required to navigate change and disruption. This year, Coursera earned B Corp™ certification for meeting rigorous standards of social and environmental performance, accountability, and transparency. We also converted to a Public Benefit Corporation. The transition underscores our deep commitment to making a positive impact on society.

Objectives

The main objective is that students will be learning new courses and to bring the best learning. So that anyone, anywhere has the power to transform their life through learning.

Outcome

We're focused on helping Courserians live well and do their best work, so we continue to expand our collection of benefits and perks as we grow the company together.

Lifelong learning

Coursera covers the cost of tuition so you can earn a free master's degree and develop new skills. That's on top of free, lifelong access to courses and certificates on the platform.
