

7.1.9 Sensitization of students and employees of the Institution to the constitutional obligations: values, rights, duties and responsibilities of citizens

Response:

Centurion University ensures that students, faculty, and staff are sensitized to their constitutional obligations through integrated academic, cultural, and developmental activities.

1. Academic Integration

- Mandatory courses such as Gender, Human Rights, and Ethics are included in the curriculum to educate students on constitutional values and responsibilities.

2. Celebrations of National Days

- National events such as Republic Day and Independence Day are celebrated with flag hoisting ceremonies and cultural programs.
- Significant days like Human Rights Day, Environment Day, and Science Day are observed to foster discussions on rights, duties, and responsibilities.

3. Workshops and Awareness Programs

- Year-round workshops and seminars are conducted for faculty, staff, and students on topics like Rights, Duties, and Responsibilities of Citizens.
- External experts are invited to provide insights on constitutional provisions and their practical implications.
- Discussions encourage critical thinking on the gap between constitutional ideals and societal practices.

4. Culture and Social Responsibility Unit

- Activities organized by the unit enhance community participation and awareness of social duties.

5. Holistic Development

- The University promotes yoga and meditation as part of the curriculum to instil values and ensure holistic personality development for students and faculty.

These initiatives underline CUTM's dedication to nurturing informed, responsible, and value-driven citizens.
