- Designation: Assistant Professor, School of Management, CUTM

Dr. Subhramaya Nayak, a distinguished faculty member at CUTM, led the seminar. With extensive knowledge and expertise in financial management, Dr. Nayak is well-versed in systematic investment plans and their role in personal finance and wealth creation. His practical insights and academic experience made him an ideal speaker for this event.

Audience

The seminar was primarily attended by faculty members from CUTM's Paralakhemundi Campus. Special guests included:

- Prof. Rabi Subudhi: A notable figure in the academic community with significant contributions to management education.
- Dr. Anita Patra: The Registrar of CUTM, whose presence underscored the importance of the seminar and the university's commitment to promoting financial literacy and investment knowledge among its staff and students.

Seminar Content and Highlights

The seminar focused on various aspects of systematic investment plans, highlighting their advantages and practical applications. Key topics covered included:

1. Introduction to Systematic Investment Plans (SIPs):
 - Dr. Nayak provided a comprehensive introduction to SIPs, explaining their functions and benefits. SIPs involve regular, automated investments in mutual funds, allowing investors to accumulate wealth over time.
2. Benefits of SIPs:
 - The speaker emphasized the advantages of SIPs, such as the power of compounding, rupee cost averaging, and the discipline of regular investing. These benefits help investors build a substantial corpus while managing market volatility.
3. Investment Strategies:
 - Dr. Nayak discussed various strategies for maximizing returns through SIPs. He provided practical tips on selecting mutual funds, setting investment goals, and aligning SIPs with long-term financial objectives.
4. Risk Management:
 - Addressing the potential risks associated with SIPs, Dr. Nayak shared methods for mitigating these risks. He stressed the importance of diversification and long-term planning to ensure stable and secure investment growth.
5. Case Studies and Real-life Examples:

- To illustrate the effectiveness of SIPs, the seminar included real-life examples and case studies. These examples demonstrated how systematic investments have helped individuals achieve their financial goals and accumulate wealth.
- 6. Interactive Q&A Session:
- The seminar concluded with an interactive Q&A session, where attendees had the opportunity to ask questions and seek clarification on various aspects of SIPs. Dr. Nayak's insightful answers further enriched the participants' understanding of the topic.

Significance and Impact

The seminar was a valuable educational opportunity for the faculty members of CUTM, providing them with crucial knowledge on systematic investment plans and their role in personal financial management. The presence of distinguished guests like Prof. Rabi Subudhi and Dr. Anita Patra highlighted the significance of the event and the university's dedication to fostering financial literacy among its community.

Dr. Subhramaya Nayak's expertise and engaging presentation style made the seminar highly informative and impactful. Attendees left with a better understanding of SIPs and the confidence to incorporate systematic investment strategies into their financial planning.

Conclusion

The "Wealth Creation through Systematic Investment Plan" seminar successfully achieved its objective of educating attendees about the benefits and applications of SIPs. Organized by the School of Management at Centurion University of Technology and Management, the seminar provided a platform for faculty members and guests to enhance their financial literacy and investment knowledge. This event underscored the university's commitment to promoting financial well-being and empowering its community with practical financial skills.
