Event Details:

On the occasion of International Nurses Day, the School of Nursing, Centurion University of Technology and Management (CUTM), Paralakhemundi, organized a virtual celebration on May 12, 2025, via Google Meet. The program was based on this year's International Council of Nurses (ICN) theme: “Our Nurses. Our Future. Caring for nurses strengthens economies.” The event was a tribute to the contributions of nurses around the world and highlighted the importance of their health, safety, and empowerment in building resilient healthcare systems.

The celebration brought together students, faculty, and staff in a collective appreciation of the nursing profession. The event underscored that investing in the well-being of nurses is not only essential for quality patient care but also foundational to global economic stability and development.

Event Highlights:

Students from the 2nd and 3rd semester B.Sc. Nursing batches showcased their creativity and knowledge through a variety of engaging activities. A rangoli competition beautifully depicted the spirit of nursing. Thought-provoking video presentations and seminar talks reflected on the theme and the need for structural and policy-level support for nurses worldwide.

The program also featured skill-based workshops and practical demonstrations, including proper handwashing techniques, reinforcing both health practices and professional excellence. Select students shared reflections on the value of nurse well-being and its direct impact on healthcare outcomes. These diverse segments provided a platform for students to express gratitude toward nurses while also enhancing their own learning and leadership skills.

Acknowledgement:

The online celebration of International Nurses Day was a heartfelt tribute to the commitment, compassion, and resilience of nurses. We extend our deepest appreciation to all the students and faculty members whose participation and efforts made this event memorable and meaningful.

Let us continue to honor nurses not just on this day, but every day, by supporting their health, professional development, and recognition. Together, we stand for a future where nurses thrive—and with them, our healthcare systems and communities.
