Introduction :

A group of B.Tech students from the Department of Mining Engineering, School of Engineering and Technology (SoET), Centurion University of Technology and Management (CUTM), Bhubaneswar Campus, participated in the National Technical Symposium “ANWESHAN-25”, held from 1st to 2nd March 2025 at Government College of Engineering (GCE), Keonjhar, Odisha. The event, hosted by the Department of Mining Engineering, GCE Keonjhar, was a national-level platform bringing together students, researchers, and professionals from the mining and allied sectors. It featured technical paper presentations, guest lectures, and competitive events centered on themes such as mining innovation, environmental impact, and sustainability. A total of 18 students from 2nd and 4th semesters, accompanied by Mr. Rakesh Behera, Assistant Professor, Mining Engineering Department, represented SoET, CUTM. The event helped bridge academic learning with industry practices and provided a national platform for intellectual exchange and collaboration.

Objectives :

- To promote technical knowledge and awareness of innovations in the mining and allied sectors.
- To expose students to national-level academic competition and paper presentation opportunities.
- To encourage interaction with professionals and peers from other premier institutes.
- To enhance academic engagement and motivation through technical symposia and seminars.

Key Outcomes :

- Technical Knowledge Development: Students explored contemporary themes such as slope stability, waste management, and mine planning.
- Academic Exposure: Participation in paper presentation sessions improved students’ research, writing, and communication skills.

- Peer Networking: The event facilitated meaningful interactions with students and faculty from various institutes across India.
- Career Inspiration: Keynote talks by industry experts and researchers motivated students to pursue advanced studies and research roles.
- Institutional Representation: CUTM students showcased their academic capability, strengthening inter-institutional collaborations and reputation.

Feedback from Participants:

The students found ANWESHAN-25 to be a highly enriching experience. They appreciated the opportunity to participate in paper presentations and attend sessions on cutting-edge mining technologies. Many felt more confident in public speaking and academic communication after presenting at a national platform. Faculty feedback underscored the importance of technical symposia in shaping students into competent professionals. Mr. Rakesh Behera recommended encouraging more participation in future inter-institutional events and fostering a culture of academic publishing within the department. Students expressed interest in organizing similar intra-university symposiums at CUTM.
